OUTDOOR WATER USAGE:

Water your lawn between 12 midnight and 6:00 am! This time period is considered "non-peak" and according to the Michigan State University Extension Service, watering during this time is perfectly fine for your lawn and will not create disease.

By shaving water usage between the peak hours of 6:00 am to 11:00 am you will also help to keep your water rates lower. Avoid doing laundry, running the dishwasher, filling pools or washing vehicles during these morning peak hours. For further information, click on the "fact sheet" link below.
